

Heated Rivalries

This is a location puzzle. It will require information from the Copley Square area but does not require you to enter any buildings. You should not check out until you have confirmed you have that information (or have solved the puzzle).

The social scene in Hell is a lot like high school. Some people are bookish, dedicated to the advancement of learning, while others clearly spend more time in drama club or playing at recess. Still, “rivals” from different niches can feel connected—maybe they exchange numbers and link up—even if the person on the field or stage is the one to reach out (on a first-name basis, starting from right where they are).
